

Tarry Town

by KIMBERLY KIGHT

Imagine a sweet town where life moves at a slower pace, where inhabitants putter around their gardens and visit each other on the porch, where friends play parlor games and dawdle on their way home. That's what Kimberly Kight envisioned with Tarry Town, not knowing when she designed it that it would be rather prophetic for our pace of life these days. Cute turtles, little cottages, teeny flowers and more are all part of this idyllic fabric town.
